Class History

On September 6, 1942, our class entered E. E. Smith High School to start on a long journey to a higher degree of education.

Our fate was a little different from that of previous classes, for we were designated as the first class to be graduated from 12th grade, thus making our stay at Smith five years instead of four.

Our first day in high school was spent, for the most part in getting acquainted with our fellow classmates and the building and learning the new rules to which we would be subjected during our five years stay in high school. The upperclassmen were very kind and made us feel quite comfortable.

From the second day on, we gradually began to notice the difference in being in high school and elementary school. The changing of classes confused us, our class periods were much longer and the work was taught on a different scale. However, we finally settled down, worked hard and got ourselves represented on the honor roll and took part in the Homecoming event, Glee Club and other school activities.

During our second year in high school, our participation grew. More members of our class were on the honor roll.

Our third year in high school was one which required a great deal more studying than in the former years. We took part in the Student Council election, the Homecoming event, and all other school activities. We attended our first formal affair, the Juniors and Senior Prom, with the Seniors as our guests.

Time passed quickly, as we entered our fourth year in school. Our participation grew larger. We were represented in the Student Council, the Homecoming event, newspaper staff and dramatics. Many of our classmates both boys and girls were outstanding in athletics.

We secured the long-awaited honor of being called "honorable Seniors" in the year of nineteen hundred and forty six. This year was one of much progress and excitement. We won the Student Council election, and first place in the Homecoming event. Basketball, football, Band and Glee Club were the favorite activities this year among the Seniors.

We were guests of the Junior Class at our last high school formal affair.

This completes our last year in high school. With its completion, we face a new tomorrow filled with happiness, adventure, work and all other elements of life.

We leave the sheltering arms of E. E. Smith inspired and determined as Ulysses of Old, "to strive, to seek, to find, and not to yield".

Last Will and Testament

We, the Senior Class of "47" upon leaving "Smith" after the completion of four years of living, learning, working, playing, giving and taking together do hereby in the presence of the following witnesses and those undeveloped classes that will trudge after us, and being of sound mind and clear judgement do dispose of our possessions as follows:

To the Juniors, we give and bequeath our most valuable possessions, self--satisfaction, our importance and our wisdom, all of which we possess in enormous quantities. In addition to this, all our privileges and rights as Seniors in chapel. The classroom, we will revert to them, as well as many notebooks, pencils, fountain pens or any unfinished business including, debts contracted while engaged in being a senior; also any boys and girls whom we may have left behind in our haste.

To the Sophomores, we leave our patience and endurance, because they will need it especially in the election of the Student Council to endure the Juniors.

To the Freshmen, we leave our little book entitled, "How to tell the Teachers".

I'm sure it has been noticed that the eighth grades have been left out. We left nothing because by the time they will have attained such heights nothing in our possessions would be regarded by them as worthy their distinction.

To our dear old school, we leave any wads of gum, crumpled notes we may have left about and above all the peaceful quiet caused by our absence.

To our Principal, we give a sense of relief that we have at last been graduated, pleasant memories to our five years together and a feeling of pride of any great noteworthy achievements that our future contains.

To our Teachers, we give and bequeath our very kindest regards and our sincere gratitude for their unfailing kindness and aid.

To the Glee Club and Band, our ability to watch the leader and audience at the same time.

The smaller and individual bequests are as follows:

To Charles Josey, Ulysses Smith's "sense of humor".
To Howard Cunningham, George Shaw's "position as fullback".
To Willie V. Mc Kinnon, Wilbur Johnson's "ways with girls".
To Lacy Mc Iver, William Waddel's "coolness".
To Lillie Butler, Mary Moore's "compact".
To Clarence Chick, Talmadge Mc Neill's "football ability".
To Alberta Greens, Lucille Daniel's "ability to get Economic".
To Elizabeth Bess, Beulah Graham's "shortness".
To Rosa Caryle, Lois Dicken's, "pleasing personality".
To Melissa Wilson, Bettie Themes' "ability to Lindy".
To Ruth Cunningham, Louise Samuel's "neatness".
To Hazeline Mc Laurin, Gloria Hinnant's "height".
To John L. Brewington, Ruper Ford's "scholastic ability".
To Edith Clark, Peggy Smith's "athletic ability".
To Mary Mc Queen, Dorothy Drake's "musical ability".
To Lamar Keith, David Evan's, "popularity".
To Juantia Thames, Geraldine Murphy's, "hair styles".

Signed, published and declared by the above named as their last will and testament.
Witnessed by Mrs. I. C. Fowler and Mrs. N. R. Mc Ghee

Class Prophecy

It is the year of 1962, on a bright beautiful day in June. All of the Smithites of the class of 1947 are returning for the Class Reunion. Invitations have been out to the former students urging them to attend the Reunion. Every performer has been at one time a resident of this town, and is a graduate from our high school.

The hour for the great event has arrived. All the seats in the auditorium are filled, and everyone is waiting for the performance to begin. As I look about me I see some of my old classmates.

I recognize Gloria Hinnant, who is Head Nurse at John Hopkins Hospital, with her staff assistants, Mary Moore and Catherine Mc Donald. Seated near them are Nella Jones, private secretary to Rupert Ford, now owner of the Fordson Stores and Doris Malloy, who is private secretary to Dorothy Tyson a successful lawyer in Norfolk, Virginia.

The noise ceases as the lights fade and the footlights flash on. Then before the packed house appears a tall dignified figure, whom I recognize as Louise Dixon now a successful Technician in the General Electric Laboratories. She is acting Mistress of Ceremonies and proceeds with the program after an address of welcome. But first she calls attention to the decorations of the auditorium and the costumes worn by all the performers, saying that they are gifts of Commar Raye, the leading Interior Decorator of the town.

The entertainment begins, as the sound of boogie-woogie music reaches the ears of the audience, the curtain rises and I see David Evans at the piano. Stepping from behind the stage is little but lively Mildred Taylor who is now a member of the Phil Spitalney All Girl Orchestra. It is no great surprise to us because our class was well represented by them in the Glee Club.

Finally, the Mistress of Ceremonies presents a prosperous looking man, a song writer. It is Charles Byrd, Duke Ellington's successor, who plays for us three of his own compositions.

At the end of the program the audience stands as the school song is played.

On my way out I meet Peggy Smith and William Waddell, Physical Education teacher at Condoza High in Washington, D. C. They inform me that Ora Mae Bayne could not be present because of her monthly inspection of her Beauty Salons in Kentucky. I also see Fred Tilley now a famous surgeon at Phillip's Hospital in St. Louis, Missouri, and attractive as ever Evangeline Kemp, superintendent of nurses in the same hospital.

On my way out I meet Talmadge Mc Neill, owner of Mc Neill's Snack Bar, I see Estelle Lyde, English Instructor at Howard University. I meet in there Obe Ford who was the president of our class. He is the owner of the Eat and Run Restaurants known all over the world. Beside him stands Betty Thames and Lois Dickens two successful social workers in Haite. To my great delight I see Doris Elliott now the Librarian at Hampton Institute, Hampton, Virginia. From her I hear that Gwendolyn Jones is private secretary to the president of Morgan College, in Baltimore, Maryland, and that Lucille Daniels is now Home Economics teacher in Louisville, Kentucky. I learn from Alphonso Mc Koy, famous criminal lawyer of Chicago that the famous Snaw Funeral Parlor in New York belongs to our own George Shaw of the Class of 47.

It is a real delight to see all of my old friends so young and prosperous, so generous of their money and talents. In short it is a "Class Reunion", to be proud of, and the old home folks should be happy to have such celebrities as these for their own.
